COURSE OVERVIEW

A professional course that prepares participants to identify, evaluate and control hazards using the Hazard Analysis and Critical Control Points method.

Food, beverage and process operations face risks ranging from microbial contamination and chemical exposure to improper handling and storage. The course turns HACCP principles into clear, practical controls: hazard identification and risk characterization, establishing critical control points, monitoring systems and corrective and preventive action.

It also connects HACCP with occupational safety, covering engineering controls, emergency controls, workforce training and the documentation and auditing that keep a HACCP system effective. Graduates are equipped to build and maintain a hazard control system their teams trust and follow.

CORE COMPETENCIES

- | | |
|---|---|
|  Apply HACCP principles
Core principles and their regulatory basis |  Characterize hazards
Biological, chemical and physical risk analysis |
|  Set critical control points

INSTRUCTIONAL DESIGN

Structured eLearning with clear explanations, visual illustrations and scenario-based examples, supported by official reference books you keep after completion.

Online eLearning

Delivered through the AISP Student Dashboard (LMS)

8 Hours

Contact hours

Self-Paced

Study at your own pace with official reference books, downloadable from the Student Dashboard and yours to keep

Lifetime Access

Your course materials remain available in your Student Dashboard after completion

 Language: All course materials, reference books and examinations are delivered in English, Spanish, German and Arabic. Reference books are provided as downloadable PDFs.

FINAL EXAMINATION

1

Score 70% or higher

Complete a timed, open-reference online examination taken through the Student Dashboard, drawn from a structured question bank.

2

Retake if needed

If you do not pass first time, further attempts are available. A short review period applies between attempts so you can revisit the course material.

3

Earn your certificate

A passing score confirms your eligibility for the Certificate of Completion. Once passed, the exam cannot be retaken to improve the score.
