COURSE OVERVIEW

A focused program that prepares individuals to participate effectively in workplace safety and health committees within general industry.

The program builds structured knowledge of safety management systems, hazard identification, incident investigation, emergency planning and committee-based coordination. Participants work through the real tasks of a committee: reviewing incidents, identifying risks, evaluating controls and contributing to emergency preparedness discussions.

Aligned with OSHA 29 CFR 1910 principles on employer safety programs and worker participation, the program reinforces structured communication, coordinated planning and systematic review. It strengthens the role committee members play in collaborative hazard control and organizational safety performance.

YOUR ROLE ON THE COMMITTEE

This program prepares you for a safety committee role alongside your current job. It does not lead to a different occupation, so instead of wage data, this page sets out what the role involves and why it matters.

WHAT THE COMMITTEE DOES

- ✓ Brings workers and management together on workplace safety and health
- ✓ Reviews hazards, inspection findings and incidents
- ✓ Recommends improvements to the site safety program
- ✓ Tracks agreed actions until they are closed

WHAT A MEMBER CONTRIBUTES

- ✓ Raises hazards and concerns from the workforce
- ✓ Takes part in inspections, risk assessments and incident reviews
- ✓ Helps agree and follow up corrective actions
- ✓ Shares committee decisions back with coworkers

HOW IT SUPPORTS THE SAFETY PROGRAM

- ✓ Gives the safety management system a regular forum for review
- ✓ Turns frontline knowledge into practical recommendations
- ✓ Keeps corrective actions visible until they are complete
- ✓ Contributes to emergency action planning and review

WHAT THE EMPLOYER GAINS

- ✓ Earlier reporting of hazards and near misses
- ✓ Stronger worker participation in safety
- ✓ Documented follow-up on incidents and findings
- ✓ Committee members who understand their responsibilities

The committee works best when members know their responsibilities, come prepared and follow actions through. That is what this program is built to develop.
